personality has become a rarity an imitation, just a copy a representative, of all the people that i just met its a sly kinda lie but i'll never fall for it and on the contrary, ill question authority until the day i pass away cause you're not the boss of me and all in all we know there's more to life than average joe its a shame to be wasting all that potential i quit my job i didn't tell em i was leaving i just walked right out that day dreaming, they told me i would never get far but i got far away from them now my head's been floating to the ceiling i just cant seem to stop i want freedom

but God Dammit i'll get somewhere originality is responsibility for everyday, everyway forget the shit scene cause the real deal in this is more than love of a habbit its more than style and sound its more like breaking ground
i just walked right out that day dreaming,
