

Sheridan Cosy

"MY LOST VALENTINE"

Visit "MY LOST VALENTINE" on MotoLyrics.com

Cosy Sheridan: acoustic guitar & vocal

John Pierce: bass

Alan Williams: harmony vocal

i would have sent you roses once upon a time roses with a card that just said "shine" like you do, like we did, does love forgive every time roses, my lost valentine
i would have met you in New York once upon a time i would have held your hand in the longest Broadway line
but the sweeter the bloom, the sharper the vine
roses, my lost valentine.
could you have loved me through the winter once upon a time in cold February when the mirror is unkind when the flowers have all faded, when love is no longer blind
i would have sent you roses my lost valentine. i would have sent you roses but it would not be kind to whoever it is, is your this year's Valentine who must someday find the thorn that you prefer your love blind
roses, my lost valentine.
i would have sent you roses once upon a time
roses with a card that just said "shine"

Visit Sheridan Cosy page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.