the little train that could was the first book they bought me i think i can i think i can the first words they taught me carry all the people where they want to go good little trains don't say no i think i can all the way to the top

i think i can never says stop

i think i can makes the wheels go round

i think i can slow down how many little trains can't remember what it's for they climb every hill to just find one more it's day with no ending, a life that won't fit it's a list of things to do that just won't quit

what if God isn't watching, what if life isn't fair what if i cannot get a gold star from the Great Out There

the little train that could said what if i sit still what if i do not blindly rush up every hill i'm not tied to the track, i'm not tied to the story i'm not burning out the engine, all the way to glory
