1994 Cosyng Music/BMI.

It seems I'm always getting up and I am always falling my heart tires of beating late some nights But heaven isn't hiding, it's in any love calling we will find you, nothing can blind you from our sight

I can walk into heaven with no one here to guide me and say this heart inside me does not know how I can walk into heaven
with all of you beside me Walk into heaven right now

I have carried my own bed through my failures and my tryings and the nights I lie down far away from home and though I let go of the ledge, in my ears their fears are crying
you won't be flying, you'll be dying all alone

I will open my hand and only hold what rests there I won't dig shine in our hoping, this is a long dance of coping bravely unsure of what we've found
