I'm divided with decisions, I'll call you through the permanent
And carry the rise and fall of man to stomach the stabs
I'll worry if I need to, a book I'll never get to open up
This city ablaze, your body aflame, I'm sent to put out
If I'm dead, then you're alright
I'll start killing when the dog starts asking to
I'll start killing when the dog starts asking to Your eyes bear curious, and I'll show it if the word is true
I'll chisel the end in skin and bone, and toast the stone
I'm quicker than the cure, I'm sicker than the illness
I bury the cautious foot of man through a hole in your hair
If I'm dead, then I'm alright
I'll start killing when the dog starts asking to
I'll start killing when the dog starts asking to
She said you're the one for me

And he said baby I'm not who you thought I'd be
She said you're the one for me
And he said maybe I'm not who you thought I'd be Maybe I'm not who you thought I'd be
So run like hell, run like hell
I can't believe they're coming for me
Run like hell, run like hell
Your mouth's my host, the gunshot smoking
Run like hell, run like hell
I can't believe they're coming for me
Run like hell, run like hell
Your mouth's my host, the gunshot smoking
