"Cradle Song"

sing a cradle song now as the light fades around us and you breath like th e ocean lying small in my arms see it all in a moment you so young and unclouded shingin bright as a lioni feel the motion of time as the arth rolls away from the sun i can feel your life burning unlived moments within yhou ruther than i can see may teh fire be your friend and the sea rock you gently may the moon light your way 'til the wind sets you free i remember your face as you cried for the first time the cold air of th e world and the fierce light of day and the cruel separation in a world washed with tears numbed with pain to unfeeling may you hold to your truths as you walk the dark night of unreason the stone walls which surround us may your spirit fly round them like the wind from the sea

[chorus]
