H00t h00t h00t h00t h00t! Boh yeah!
We are all playing in this racial game,
we are all just the same,
No difference
Yeah I can see the problems grew
Since that day in september

(Chorus)
This world was made for you and me

Now look at who is there
Another player in the racial game
I saw a skin, beating down on me.
he could not see
We should be living in unity!

(Chorus)

There is no race to blame for the current state
This fucked up world is dwelling in
If you want to blame, blame the ones on top
They are the ones, keeping us apart

(Chorus)
Why can't we see, why can't we forget?
The color of our skin
Why can't we see, why can't we forget?
Each day we live in sin
It is there for you, it is there for me,
Each day we see the same old shit
It is there for you, it is there for me,
Each day we see the same old shit
