"These Silent Times"

These silent times are what I really keep in mind
Oh what Iâve kept in mind was gone now
And Iâm not there but whatever the clouds you break Oh the ghosts you gave me were long for gone now, in time

What you are I havenât really discovered
Oh no no Why did I let you go baby now

Cause I was the one to push you away
Cause I was the moth too close to the flame
Cause I pledged my heart to you

Could you hear right from the start?
This quiet whisper seemed to far
And I pledged my heart to you

These silent times are what I really keep in mind
oh what Iâve left behind was gone now Youâre not there but whatever the moves I make Oh the love you gave me was long gone now

You are what Iâm running to But Iâm running âround in front of you And Iâm not telling to lose my track But I lost my track and you are, and you are
