Well I travel the highway I make many scenes.
Been lost in darkness, I've been out on the streets.
I feel so unhappy, sometimes I wanted to die, Lord
But if I have your sweet sweet love, I know I get right.

This old world is turning, like wheels on a train,
I hold on to each moment, that it won't come again. (let me tell you)

I'm not educated, but there's one thing I know,
That I'd rather be blind, than to see you go. (all right now)

I feel that for strong woman, who knows how to be weak,
And it makes me feel so good, every time she speaks.
Oh the revelation, the revelation in her smile,
It feels so much like in heaven, when I... ???

So don't leave me darling, no, whatever you do,
When I'm standing beside you, I know we'll get through
And there is only one thing, babe, that I want you to
know,
That I'd rather be blind, than to see you go.

[SOLO]

So don't leave me babe, ah, whatever you do,
When you're standing beside me, I know we'll get through
And there is only one thing, babe, that I want you to
know,
That I'd rather be blind, than to see you go. (let me tell you now)
I'd rather be blind, than to see you go. (let me tell you again)
I'd rather be blind, than to see you go.
