You must do it for you this time.

No one means more than you this time.

Oh you know

If you care enough,

The dreams you touch will happen.

You must think of yourself this time.

You must live for yourself this time.

There's a place

Hiding deep inside

That comes alive with caring.

And this time

You can love the hurt away

Of all the times you've tried

'Cause in your heart you're here to stay.

It's for you this time.

You must care about you this time.

You must think with your heart this time.

Don't you know

That for every change

There might be pain inside you?

But this time

You can love the hurt away
Of all the times you've tried
'Cause in your heart you're here to stay.
It's for you this time.
And this time
You can love the hurt away
Of all the times you've tried
'Cause in your heart you're here to stay.
It's for you this time
