I'm constantly haunting this space
With demons by my side to protect me
And to convince me
That I was always right, was right
Head away to my house
Empty space where you can find me
Exactly where we'd stay
Your mistake on your own chances take
To break away, to break away, to break the way
Always in my place, stone white face
What I know (what I know, what I know)
Head away to my house
Empty space where you can find me
Exactly where we stay
Your mistake on your own chances take
To break away, break away, break way
