Don't be deceived, you have to question everything especially those who say they represent Don't be defined by a faceless mass of charlatans enticing you to buy their wretched line Keep moving Keep moving on and on Don't slow down, let them put you in your place If you've had enough and you just can't take One last fight, I want to make you come alive tonight Don't take my word, or what you read or what you've heard the angle of the eye distorts the view don't take my side, it's just another way to hide the decision's all on you.
Keep moving Keep moving on and on. Don't slow down, let them put you in your place If you've had enough and you just can't take One last fight, I want to make you come alive tonight
