lyrics by Brandon Fleming music by sisterpete

Sweet bells are ringing in my head the president is dead

the blind man sees now

Believe

I'm making myself now better than I was before

I've put away the old of me

now I believe

Hello there, I trust you're doing fine have you had your rush today

I'm here to say you'll get your chance don't waste it on a glance of the dark side you're only wasting time

now I believe

Not parallel! the lies just were not good enough not parallel, you and I we came from different lots yeah

like I said, you're gonna get your chance please don't waste it on a glance of the dark side, you're only wasting time
better than I was before
