If you don't look
Like the picture in a book
You're an outcast
Life's so hard
You're wearing out your credit card
'Cuz styles keep changing so fast

Fashion fades
Things will change
But something stronger will remain
The love of Jesus stays the same
So where will you be
When the fashion fades

Bell-bottomed jeans
And everchanging mood rings
Once made sense
For miami vice
You would have paid most any price
But now pastels are past tense

(Repeat chorus)

All those things you had to buy
Special ordered through the mail
Things you thought would change your life
Are the highlights of somebody's yard sale

(Repeat chorus)
