This time it all comes clear
This is the last you'll ever here the words from

Out of my mouth
To be never whispered or spoken again
Those words have gone and died

I crashed my car for you, you just stood there
You reached right down and pulled the heart from

Out of my mouth
To be never whispered or spoken again
Like an exiled loser, never again
And everybody else knew

This is the closest that I'll ever get
Nothing I could say
Could change the whole of it
So this is the closest that I'll ever get

This time it all comes clear
This is the last you'll ever hear the words from

Out of my mouth
To be never whispered or spoken again
Like an exiled loser, never again
And everybody else knew

This is the closest that I'll ever get
Nothing I could say
Could change the whole of it
So this is the closest that I'll ever get

All along I never closed that door
All along I showed you what it's for
I was wrong

This time it all comes clear
This is the last you'll ever here the words from

This is the closest that I'll ever get
Nothing I could say

Could change the whole of it
So this is the closest that I'll ever get
