

White Light Motorcade "Looking At Stars"

Visit "Looking At Stars" on MotoLyrics.com

Took the five p.m. to Kingston on the Hudson Line
[Unverified] and I'm so stoked to find a place
Where everything means nothing
And I don't feel so vulnerable

The sky is velvet, night is falling, lying on my back
The grass between my fingers, I'm not afraid
Solitude just made my day
And I don't feel uncomfortable

Life, it shouldn't be so hard
Now a change is probable

I'm looking at the stars, every thing's so far
All alone with myself, everything is fine

On my back to the station I came across a bar
I figured I should go for one, turned into ten
And I've got me a brand new friend
She makes me feel so wonderful

Life, it shouldn't be so hard
Now a change is probable

I'm looking at the stars, every thing's so far
All alone with myself, everything is fine

Visit White Light Motorcade page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.