"Beneath The Fallen"

As the sun goes down
we wait for the dawn
of our new awakening our old lives were plain and simple now as we come out at night the feeding frenzy of the vampire cult begins as we taste the flesh of the innocent our hands our drenched with blood and their pain painted on our minds

Now as we look to our past all we see are broken pictures
and memories of a fucked up path that led us to our death
now all we seek is thirst and vengeance

As the sun goes down

You dont know what its like to be me You dont want to become what i am
