I've been in this hell forever
I don't even know how long And there were times I thought I never Would hold you in my arms again

But now that everything is over And I'm finally out of here

I'll be goin' home tonight and everything will be alright
'Cause when I open up the door you'll be waiting
And you will keep me warm at night and you will make me live again
Yes, I'm going home tonight and you'll be waiting

I know I always will remember Every word we said that night
And when the morning came I had to go But baby I didn't wanna say goodbye

As I leave this place behind me There's a smile on my face

'Cause I'm goin' home tonight and everything will be alright
'Cause when I open up the door you'll be waiting
And you will keep me warm at night and you will make
me live again
Yes, I'm going home tonight and you'll be waiting

Yes, I'm goin' home tonight and everything will be
alright
'Cause when I open up the door you'll be waiting
And you will keep me warm at night and you will make
me live again
Yes, I'm going home tonight and you'll be waiting

alright
'Cause when I open up the door you'll be waiting
And you will keep me warm at night and you will make
me live again
Yes, I'm going home tonight and you'll be waiting

Oh baby, I'm finally comin' home
And tonight I'll be lying in your arms Yes I'm goin' home tonight and everything will be
alright
'Cause when I open up the door you'll be waiting
