

White Rose

"You've Never Tasted Tears"

Visit "You've Never Tasted Tears" on MotoLyrics.com

I seem to spend most of my life
At second best

I keep you locked out of my mind,
To focus on what's left

But you call,
We kiss,
I'm struggling now,
To find an excuse
To shut you out

I seem to spend most of my life

And I feel left out
And I feel so empty without you
Well, you cut me out

I need someone to help me through you
I feel left out

And I feel so empty without you
Well, you cut me out.

I need someone to help me through

The broken glasses
Living is a tax on the brain
Maybe it's made for me
You run my world through the bottom of a bottle of gin

It doesn't seem so mean
Your mind, sometimes when you want it to You've gotta love someone
Baby just think it through

Then I see I'm just falling out of love for you

And I feel left out
And I feel so empty without you
Well, you cut me out

I need someone to help me through
You know I feel left out
And I feel so empty without you
Well, you cut me out
I need someone to help me through

What are you into?
Whatever you're into,
Oh, oh

'Cause I could be into you
What are you into?
Whatever you're into

Oh, oh
'Cause I could be into you.

And I feel left out
And I feel so empty without you
Well, you cut me out
I need someone to help me through
You know I feel left out
And I feel so empty without you
Well, you cut me out
I need someone to help me through

Visit White Rose page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.