"Almost Honest"

So in the mean time, you'll be resting on my mind
For the last time, I will leave myself behind
In the evenings raise a glass and tell some lies Make a pass, impress another girl, she's easy on the eyes
She was easy
So was I
My reflection in the window when I ride
For Chicago, she is on the other side
Take a picture, write a letter to my love
Well I was almost honest
I was almost honest

Been a long time since I lay with you in bed
Conversations full of words you never said
I got your message but I didn't hear the ringing bell
I gave into the loneliness
But I didn't give up nothing else
Which direction down this highway that I ride
To Atlanta, she is on the other side
Take a picture write a letter to my love
I was almost honest
Well I was almost honest

yeahhhhh, mmmmm
(instrumental)

My reflection in the window when I ride
Could not save us
But I swear to God I try
Take a picture
Write a letter to my love
I was almost honest
Well I was almost honest
Cause I was almost honest
