"Lonely Heart"

The memory of you
still lingers on and our song is playing in my head on and on our world is black and white baby now that you're gone i'm smelling your parfume on the pillow next to mine and i remember how you loved me every single night the room is getting dark and the walls are so tight i'm falling asleep on that dream that you're mine and i dream that you're mine...

i'm a lo-o-only heart

the world is black and white baby now that you're gone i stare and i think that forever is gone

Ã~'m a lonely heart, lonely heart you're my lonely heart
