"Goodbye For Good"

Isn't there a way I could go back
Isn't there a way I could turn back the time
I know it's hard for me to be with you
But I would say, "I do".

Every step I take, I take alone
I know I wish you would be here to guide me home - yeah
Can never let you out or let you in
Now I want you again

How did we break up, fall apart
You are still the one deep in my heart
Every time you turn around
I say goodbye again

How did we break up, fall apart
When did light turn out so dark
But should we say goodbye for good

Sitting all alone with all my fears
Even though I fight it back I feel the tears
What could I have said what could I do
To still be here with you

How did we break up, fall apart
You are still the one deep in my heart
Every time you turn around
I say goodbye again

How did we break up, fall apart
When did light turn out so dark
But should we say goodbye for good

What did I do wrong, just tell me girl
Cause I need your arms to night
(I need your arms to night)
Tell me how could we end up this way
Tell me why

How could we break up, and fall apart

You are still the one
I regret the thing I've done...

How did we break up, fall apart
You are still the one deep in my heart
But every time you turn around
I say goodbye again

How did we break up, fall apart
When did light turn out so dark
Cause I don't wanna say goodbye for good

How did we break up, fall apart
You are still the one deep in my heart
But every time you turn around
I say goodbye again

How did we break up, fall apart
When did light turn out so dark
It's time for say goodbye for good
