The distance we have come has got me pinin'
For a touch up once familiar and excitin'
And though up yonder charts we might be climbing
To do it without you is very frightenin'

Now you've got a job you hoped and work for We're both pretty much where we wanna be
We hardly get any time together
'Cos now we're both fallen to disease

Human all too human
I'm at the mercy of you
You got me right were you want me
Theres nothing else I can do
Human all too human
I'm all tense and stressed
Just can't bring myself to tell you
I can't keep livin' like this

Comin' back to the flat now seems so lonely
You're not there so its just how I left it
The chair that you used to sit in is now empty
Its arms can't hold me like they're meant to

Human all too human,
I'm at the mercy of you
You've got me right were you want me
Theres nothin else I can do
Human all too human,
I'm all tense and stressed
Just can't bring myself to tell you
I can't keep livin' like this

(Human all too human)

I need you I need you, I seriously do
I'm not even drunk yet, I only had a few
I need you I need you I seriously do,
I'm not even drunk yet I only had a few

You got me right were you want me

There nothing else I can do
Human all too human
I'm all tense and stressed
Just cant bring myself to tell you
I can't keep living like this

(Human all too human)
