

Whitlams

"Pigeons in the Attic"

Visit "Pigeons in the Attic" on MotoLyrics.com

Well I hate to have to tell you this
But there were pigeons in the attic room
When you left me standing gasping that afternoon
And where the floorboards left their splinters
As you left me so soon

And me, I'm drunk again
And when I'm drunk I make no sense
But I crack more jokes and that's my self defense
You caused me to think
And I thought about what I had done without you
You drove me to drink
And I never had the courtesy to thank you
Words & Music: Tracy Thorn, Ben Watt
Tim Freedman: vocals, piano
Stevie Plunder: guitar, vocals
Andy Lewis: bass, backing vocals
Recorded live 18th March 1993 at Skyhigh

Visit Whitlams page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.