Well, hurry up and kiss me
I'm runnin' out the door
Yeah, maybe later, baby
We'll get a little more
Time to take on time
Time to burn just me and you

This place is like a circus
There's so much goin' on
Blink your eye, snap your fingers
We're here and then we're gone

Gonna do those things
All those things we know we gotta do
But, babe, I hope you know

No matter how far away
How many nights, how many days
Nothing's ever gonna break us in two

'Cause there's nothing strong enough
There's no road long enough
No matter where I go or what I do
I'm still comin' home to you

I could be across the ocean
Or driving down our street
There's always something missing
And missing you never gets easy
But I'm always on my way

No matter how far away
How many nights, how many days
Nothing's ever gonna break us in two

'Cause there's nothing strong enough
There's no road long enough
No matter where I go or what I do
I'm still comin' home to you
I'm still comin' home to you

No matter how far away

How many nights, how many days

No matter how far away

How many nights, how many days

Nothing's ever gonna break us in two

'Cause there's nothing strong enough

There's no road long enough

No matter where I go or what I do

I'm still comin' home to you, oh

I'm still comin' home to you

I'm still comin' home to you
