Goodbye! I'm ready for laughter.
Goodbye! I've had enough of the pain.
This time, when you turn to leave me,
You won't hear me callin' out your name.
This time, I won't let your memory,
Drag my heart out in the rain.

And I will be strong, and carry on;
Till love shines on me again!
Goodbye! I'm searching for true love.
A love, that's real from the start.
This time, I can face being lonely,
Cause there's a song, deep in my heart.
This time, I feel like a new man.
Go on! I want you to go!

And I will be strong, and carry on;
Till love shines on me again!
And I will be strong, and carry on;
Till love shines on me again!
