Hold the mercy, don't need no shelter
Hold the mercy, I've been waitin' for too long

Who you carryin' those bricks for
Why you carryin' the weight?
You messin' with love, your anger and hate
Who you carryin' those bricks for
Why you carryin' the weight?
It's never too long, and it's never too late

You can believe in yourself
You can believe in your soul
Find the answers in your questions
And happiness you will know

Who you carryin' those bricks for
Why you carryin' the weight?
Heard the people sayin' that it's all just fate
Who you carryin' those bricks for
Why you carryin' the weight?
He's never in love, and he's never the same
