All of your life you're sitting inside
Watching the world go by Taking your time oh never mind
There's really no reason to try
What do you know?
Taking the risk, oh taking the time
Nobody seems to oblige
Waiting for someone to show you the way
It's hard to see hope in their eyes
And then they tell you about the things you've done
They know the answers, but really, what do they know?
What do you know?
Woops, oh what's your mistake?
I know it's so hard to try
They beg you to leave, oh they beg you to stay
It's never an easy ride
What do you know?
So here's a chance to show to you
All of the things in your way
The message is clear but it's hard to hear
So listen to what we say
What do you know?
