Down the way
There's a street
Where everything is a melody
And down the way
There's a place
Where you can be what you want to be
The walls of Hades
The gates of heaven
Start to melt away
A baby's crying
But you can't hear
A single word he says
All it takes is love, babe
All it takes is your love
All it takes is love, babe
All it takes is your love
Who is your love?
Who is your love?
Who is your love?
Like before me
There will be another one
Like before me
There will be another one
For all to witness
We will walk on common ground
For all to witness
We will walk on common ground
Who is your love?
Who is your love?
Who is your love?
Who is your love?
Who is your love?
Who is your love?
Who is your love?
Who is your love?
All it takes is love, babe
All it takes is your love
