What if I stumble, what if I fall
What if I'm the champion of the crawl
What if I lie just to cover the truth
What if I waste all the days of my youth

What if I cast all my dreams in the sea
What if my greatest fear is me
Where can I run to escape from this hell
Would you be there? Would you be there?

Cardiac arrest, heart pounding out of my chest
Don't wanna become like a crash test dummy
If I let you down wil you still want me around
If I'm broken will you still love me?

What if I staple and color my skin
What if I enjoy all of my sin
What if I run just to hide from the noise
What if I like girls, what if boys

What if I listen to all that they say
I promise forever and then walk away
Where can I run to escape from myself
Would you be there? Would you be there?

Cardiac arrest, heart pounding out of my chest
Don't wanna become like a crash test dummy
If I let you down will you still want me around
If I'm broken will you still love me?
(repeat)

Will you still love me?

You're so unpredictable
You're love's so unconditional
Tell me will I be alright
If I don't love myself

What if I stumble, what if I fall
What if I'm the champion of the crawl
All that I hope for, all I can be

All I can offer you is me

Cardiac arrest, heart pounding out of my chest
Don't wanna become like a crash test dummy
If I let you down will you still want me around
If I'm broken will you still love me?
(repeat)

Will you still love me? (x4)

Tell me
What if I'm broken? (x4)

Will you still love me then?
