I don't know if I can live without you
I don't know if it's much better when you're there
It seems the more that I find out about you
I get scared
You've got your arguments and your agendas
Got your reasons for the way things have to be
The narcissistic world that you've created
Has got no room for me

I'm not so far away
I'm not so far away
You know I'm not so far away
From you now
Far away from you

Something familiar about the way that you are Something I recognize that cannot be denied
I keep my distance but I'm not so far from
Your ignorance and pride

I'm not so far away
I'm not so far away
You know I'm not so far away
From you now
So far away from you

I'm not so far away
I'm not so far away
You know I'm not so far away
From you now

I'm not so far away
I'm not so far away
You know I'm not so far away
From you now

Is that you or me?
Tell me what do you see?
I guess I'll never be far
From you now
No, no

Far away from you
