Combined the world was ours to take
We appeared in different shapes on end
On our own we found the spot we fit
On our own we found the spot we fit

She spoke in terms beyond her age
As we wandered aimlessly about
Tied to streets we'd known from birth and on
Tied to streets we'd known from birth and on

Your head's in the clouds
Your head's in the clouds
Your head's in the clouds
Your head's in the clouds

By the steps beside the parking lot
We observed the people passing by
It was done before and after us
It was done before and after us

I told you I was nothing but a heartbeat
Your head's in the clouds
I told you I was nothing but a heartbeat
Your head's in the clouds
I told you I was nothing but a heartbeat
Your head's in the clouds
I told you I was nothing but a heartbeat

In a weak but unexpected sun
I saw prospect everywhere I turned
It was more than I could take
It was more than I could take

I told you I was nothing but a heartbeat
I told you I was nothing but a heartbeat
I told you I was nothing but a heartbeat
I told you I was nothing but a heartbeat
