I've fallen down with you
The burn and sting cuts through
Its all I want to do and not at all

I'm constantly stuck behind your sinister mastermind
Stop begging me for my eyes and just become A shadow I've left behind and locked in with the blind
I'm begging you to stop begging me

Everything feels like poetry when you want it to I'm playing the fool I'd like to be when no one's listening

I'm constantly stuck behind your sinister mastermind
I'm begging you to stop begging me

Everything feels like poetry when you want it to
And I'm happy with this constant misery
I like to be misunderstood

Everything feels like poetry when you want it to I'm playing the fool I'd like to be when no one's
listening
And I'm happy with this constant misery
I like to be misunderstood
