When a fever goes down
Like a belly in the morning
The reality sighs
Almost looks like it could've made it
Sense if you stay a while, yeah
Long enough to let me believe
You could see them
Dressed like a casual motor wear
You could see them
Bombing around motor isle
Those heroes, they die
Those heroes, they die

Tom, take the money
Take the money and run
Tom, take the money
Take the money and run
Tom, take the money
Take the money and run

When the company calls
Shining pair of scissors to release you
In an offer you can't resist
His face of money versus friendship
Well, just take your memory
I'll be in the shock, keep smiling
You could see them
Making you believe that you were smiling
You could see their names on the seats inside
Well, the heroes they die
Those heroes they die

Tom, take the money
Take the money and run
Tom, take the money
Take the money and run
Tom, take the money
Take the money and run
Take the money and run
Tom, take the money
Take the money and run

Tom, take the money
Take the money and run
Tom, take the money
Take the money and run

When the fever goes down
Wish you were still around
