Screaming your name
But you can't hear me now
Falling from grace
Is such a long way down

Bright like the sun
Shine like the stars
Rising above
The darkness

Runneth my cup
Boiling my blood
You light up the sky
Like fireflies

And you know

Chorus
So many times I tried to run away from this
There's no escaping the morning
So many times I tried to run away from this
There's no escaping
There's no escaping the fireflies
The fireflies

Screaming the words
But you can't hear me now
My heart was red
But it's much colder now

Bright like the sun
Shine like the stars
I'm drowning myself
In silence

With every touch
You cower me down
You light up the sky
Like fireflies

And you know

Chorus

So many times I tried to run away from this
There's now escaping the morning
So many times I tried to run away from this
There's no escaping
There's no escaping the fireflies
The fireflies

There's no escaping
There's no escaping
So many times I tried to run away from this
There's no escaping
There's no escaping
The fireflies
The fireflies
