Wild Strawberries
"Wrong To Let You Go"

I've been to all the familiar places,
I've been runnin' like a sentence;
never begun
I've been lookin for a way to let you know,
I've got nothin left to fill all the spaces,
I've got nothin but a center;
comin undone
I've been to encircle signded(?) shows

Every cloud in the sky
Every place that I hide
Tell me that I, I was wrong to let you go
Every sound that I hear,
Every thought that I fear,
Tell me that I, I was wrong.
I was wrong to let you go.

Its the little things that make you crazy;
Like the thought of someone touchin your skin,
I can see you everywhere I go.
It could be inside a sea of faces,
It could be the room of the grand swimmin in the river acid flows

Every cloud in the sky,
Every place that I hide,
Tell me that I, I was wrong to let you go.
Every sound that I hear,
Every thought that I fear,
Tell me that I, I was wrong.
I was wrong to let you go.

Every cloud in the sky,
Every place that I hide,
Tell me that I, I was wrong to let you go.
Every sound that I hear,
Every thoulght that I fear,
Tell me that I, I was wrong.
I was wrong to let you go.

Every cloud in the sky

Every place that I hide
Tell me that I, I was wrong to let you go
And every sound that I hear
Every thought I fear
Tell me that I, I was wrong
I was wrong to let you go
