Let's just say it's raining
And you come in where it's dry
And we strike a conversation
While the storm is rolling by
Do you think that you
Could fall in love with me
Hypothetically
We may be somewhere walking
And I try to steal a kiss
Would you recognize the moment
For the magic that it is
Could you imagine just how sweet
That kiss could be
Hypothetically
Am I dreamin'... dreamin'
Do the decent thing and let me know
But if you believe in fate
Why should we speculate
Let's go ahead and carve this thing in stone
We're standing in a garden
And we watch our children play

And the love we've shared between us

Has grown stronger everyday

Do you think that that's a possibility

Hypothetically
