Mornings like this
Make me feel like I never could float
Glimpses of peace
Portray all that you never could show
I'm not weakened by the fears
That you have applied
See I'm now learning in these walls
That you have supplied
Slow
Slow down boy
Slow down to control
Slow slow
Clothed in new costumes
That weather your newfound storms staring through reason content with your newfound decor (spoken) I passed the darkened vaults of Late doorways as if I were a king.
Like this, I chain a whisper to my faults
