I've seen your face a thousand times,
have all your stories memorised,
I've kissed your lips a million ways,
but I still love to have you around.

I've held you too many times to count,
I think I know you inside out,
and we were together most days,
but I still love to have you around.

(chorus)
and you're the one I want,
and it's not just a phase,
and you're the one I trust,
our love is the real thing.

Don't go away, my love,
I want you to stay in my life,
don't go away, my love,
I'm happiest when we spend time.

You're a salty water, ocean wave,
you knock me down you kiss my face,
I know the storms will always come,
but I still love to have you around.

And heaven knows what will come next,
so emotional, you're so complex,
a rollercoaster built to crash,
but I still love to have you around.

(chorus)

It's you there when I close my eyes,
and you in the morning,
I never thought you'd still be mine,
or I'd ever really need you around.

(chorus)
