Hate consumes me i search for release time is the only answer My conscience weighs so heavily on my soul so heavily I will continue alone share nothing Pierce my eyes dreams i only wished for secrets never anyone elses Careless and pointless followed the temptation to the wrong destination deflection of the truth staring back at me strength under the sheets decisions make themselves forget to love
no feelings
they will never come this will never fix it it will never fill the moment
