Summer did came at last

It took time for me

To start up the engine

I've waited for this

I drive 500 miles

To see you again

It has been a while

I've lived for this

Sunset, cold and wet

What I want I ain't gonna get

I thought we could enjoy it together

Yellow rice, chopsticks

Meatballs used to make you tick

These moments are gone, gone forever

And we finally meet

Thought I'd buy a lunch

I wanna share a steak with you

But something happened in time

Now I don't know my friend

You tell me that you have quitted eating meat --- great!

Sunset, cold and wet

What I want I ain't gonna get
I thought we could enjoy it together
I try pork chops and chicken pie
Now meatballs only make you cry
These moments are gone, gone forever
It came as a chock
You're so different
I want you to
To be like you were...
C'mon now
C'mon out
Let me in
Let me dim
Dim the lights
See the starry night
Stare right into your eyes
I had see if you look away
I had to see if you look away
