Hate, I would forever lie
I would fake all the times
That you broke me down misery

Hate covered in broken glass
My skeleton bones will last
Far beyond flowers and dust
So where would I be?

Love the feeling I've lost control
Failing so beautiful
When you left me there misery

Hate blacken my artery
Harden my every fiber of grief stricken love
So where would I be?

Sadness in London Town
I walk the streets of Leicester Square
Sadness in my own heart sound
I walk till dawn the disappear
