Son, I'm sorry for this world and all the awful things she'll do to you.
If you only knew what you'd endure before you were born.
I haven't got a single doubt you would have not come out
And I would have known it was for the better.

You'll be raped of any evidence of ever owning any innocence
This culture's a vulture and you're a prime candidate for prey.
I've learned that I will lose all that I've ever loved one day
But I never thought I'd ever have to watch it all go,
Or wish it all away

I know you'll grow,
I wish I knew you'd stay small if I said so
Please just don't grow
Please just don't grow
Just stay small Stay small

Daddy's little girl met the world
I watched the devil do his work
If she only knew just how sorry I was.
I found not a single prayer could save my daughter from despair
As long as she stayed in love with this place.

It's because I truly love her that I wish to take back the work
That brought her here in the first place
Had I only known that one act would be the reason That my new baby girl
Like her dad would dance with demons

We watch the devil do his work in us.
I watch the devil do his work.
