Verse1: you kiss, and you die, and you jump into space on the edge of a cliff, you fall on your face you get this big riff that your gonna win when you reach the finish line...

Chorus: You gotta take deep breaths and make big steps never look down and try your best climb high mountains and swim through lake to make this world a better place

Verse2: you crash and you fall but you always find out that when you get back up that there's never any doubt that the sun will arise and the moon will cry out when they reach their highest point...

Chorus

Verse3: You wake up it's morning it was all just a dream you look in the mirror and what do you see? a person who laughs with a smile on their face 'cuz you just figured out how to save the human race by taking deep breaths and making big steps never looking down and trying your best climbing high mountains and swimming through lakes and making this world a better place

Chorus
