Wasting away time, trying to find you,
searching shadows and deep into life to seek where you are.

Way down in my heart, I know you're out there,
looking back on the memories to see how far we've gone.

Chorus:

Chasing away my fears that you are gone, forever,
wandering around the world to get back into your mind.
Prying into the light to overcome my dark intentions,
deep within the shadows i sure hope to find... you.

I've lost so much time, so many people too,
you're the last person I'd ever think to leave my side.
It gets so lonely, it's hard to see you through,
how the hell could you leave me to survive alone?

Chorus

Chasing away my fears that you are gone, forever,
wandering around the world to get back into your mind.
Prying into the light to overcome my dark intentions,
deep within the shadows i sure hope to find... you.
