I don't know wear this fear comes from how i became so afraid of losing everyone never been afraid of beeing lonley now i'm becoming the one i'm most scared of being

the fear of failing, fear of letting everyone and myself down
it's growing deep into my soul making me all paralyzed and cold it's two steps forward, three steps back again i'll turn my face against it, i won't run Courage and belif are my redeems no one else can rescue me it seems

Cause if i don't follow my heart this time I'm gonna forget what this life is all about I'm gonna take that path, I'm going on my own I'm gonna take that fear and wear it like a crown
