"Once Again"

you've always been there for me and i never cared enough you've always love me prefectly and i never shared some and you never said a thing you gave it all just for me i treated you so selfishly and you rest here by my side instead you give so selflessly and i didnt have to try to show you ive missed you so much how can i be so insensative
i come to you
this time i'll never make it slip away hold my hand and together we will wait for the day that we will be as one you know i prayed a thousand times and you never did the same you made me see that i was blind you wiped those tears away you showed me your true love and now im thinking how i can repay

for the day when we will be as one i know that there were times when you almost gave up and i couldn't blame you if you did just that but still you chose to stay and suffer all the pain you held on..gave me hope..believed that i could change
i'm coming to you...
i come to you
for the day when we will be [gonna wait for the day] as one [baby i come back to you once again] baby i come to you..
