A silhouette waits outside my window
I jump up and I shout to see if your there There's nothing but cold sharp air.

I wake up, another day without you Take a breath from cigarettes
I got time to spare, its better when you're not here

Say you love me, you can lie if it is comforting and I Won't even mind it so bad, won't even find it so sad Please see that I've changed I sealed the cracks in my window panes
And I, won't even mind it so bad won't even find it so sad

I'm not sick I'm not weird I'm simply in love
You must try to understand you were sent from above
You say you hate me well that's just fine I will wait till the end of time

Say you love me, you can lie if it is comforting and I Won't even mind it so bad, won't even find it so sad.
Please see I've changed I sealed the cracks in my
window panes
And I won't even mind it so bad, won't even find it so sad today

Say you love me, you can lie if it is comforting and I Won't even mind it so bad, won't even find it so sad
Please see that I've changed I sealed the cracks in my
window panes
And I, won't even mind it so bad won't even find it so
sad

Loving you is the only thing I ever knew letting go is the hardest thing ill ever do I don't even mind it so bad
I don't even find it so sad today.
