Well I was only here for the weekend
I kinda hung around for the week
You took me in showed me things I never knew
Oh you left me lonesome now I can't speak
I can't speak, I can't speak, I won't speak now

Baby you know this ain't love
My love is stronger than your love
Well baby how could this be love?
My love is stronger
My love is stronger
My love is stronger than your love

Well I was only here for the reason
The season when your pearl necklace broke
The words we murmured so no one ever heard them
Mean nothing now but I can't let go
Don't let go, don't let go, don't you go oh

Baby you know this ain't love
My love is stronger than your love
Well baby how could this be love
My love is stronger
My love is stronger
My love is stronger than your love

But all of your visions and missions to Mars
Were hung up in the headlights they were written in the stars
And all this ambition's ambivalence bound
I knew that it would
I knew that it would
Oh you know that it's good when it hurts like it should

Baby you know this ain't love
My love is stronger than your love
Well baby how could this be love
My love is stronger
My love is stronger
My love is stronger than your love

My love is stronger
My love is stronger
My love is stronger than your love
