I'm not a fool
I know how this ends city lights shine bright tonight and nothing else is worth my time she stares at me like it's out of style the butterflies stay for a while drop your walls if you will by now romance and me alone can't tear them down chorus:

I can't resist you when the lights are out you're all mine
I'm done with lies and you don't seem to mind It's time to burn your bedroom, this is why I tried after two or three, you say I shouldn't worry I'm not thinking straight, a valentine this time will have to wait and shadows on the road oh they know too much to hold on to you or hold on to me, or hold on to

you're all mine, I can take this as far as I want you're all mine, nothing you could ever say to make this wrong
you're all mine, I can take this as far as I want you're all mine, nothing you could say to make this wrong

you're all mine (x10)
I can take (x10)

I can take this as far as I want
